

The Wild Bunch Side Match for May had 10 shooters in a 2-stage match that called for 4 mags per stage, and a minimum of 10 shotgun shells. We didn't need no stinkin' rifle! We shot the plates off the rack, then scrambled to the Mine where we had a choice of shooting a popper then it's flying clay, then the other popper and clay, or shooting both poppers first, then the birds while they were both in the air. I think Delta Glen said it best when he successfully performed the latter move: "Wow, that's a rush!"
